PACIFIC CLINICAL RESEARCH MEDICAL GROUP

FACILITY

Since 1987, Pacific Clinical Research Medical Group has been an internationally recognized leader in clinical trial research, treating thousands of patients throughout Los Angeles, Orange and San Bernardino counties. The Upland outpatient clinic is a dedicated research facility, easily accessible to main freeways and within three miles of an emergency room. It is fully equipped to conduct clinical trials, with a double-locked drug storage room, locked room for study binder storage, -20 degree refrigerator, ECG machines and dedicated space for monitoring. The facility maintains a fully equipped exam room and a CLIA-waived laboratory for drawing blood, processing samples and performing ECGs.

The staff members are experts in the treatment of Depression, Anxiety Disorders, Insomnia, Bipolar Disorder and other mental health disorders. Pacific Clinical Research Medical Group has a centralized regulatory department that uses a central IRB for regulatory submissions. In addition, Pacific Clinical Research Medical Group has a dedicated recruitment department, with an experienced lead recruiter and dedicated phone screeners, that successfully prescreens and identifies quality study subjects.
