SAN DIEGO FACILITY

Pacific Research Network, a subsidiary of Evolution Research Group, is a dedicated outpatient/inpatient research facility located in downtown San Diego. This 6,000-square-foot facility includes nine beds in private rooms, desirable for sleep studies, phase I and elderly subjects. The site is active in community outreach for subjects experiencing memory loss, sleep impairment, Alzheimer's Disease, Huntington's Disease, among others. Located just two miles from the San Diego International Airport, Pacific Research Network is easily accessible using public transportation.

RANCHO BERNARDO FACILITY

Pacific Research Network's Rancho Bernardo clinic is uniquely equipped to serve the predominantly elderly population 20 miles north of the main clinic. This site offers over 2,100 square feet complete with four private offices, two exam rooms, two sleep rooms, a CLIA-certified lab, an extended-stay subject lounge and ample parking. A large common room allows staff to host regular educational and outreach events to highlight studies, support groups and services.
